of El Paso and surrounding country and has justified its establishment. I believe that a well conducted school for girls would do an equal amount of good and should receive the same hearty support that has been extended to that institution.

Miss Gorbett Heartily Approves.
"I heartily approve of a girls' school for El Paso—a good one. I feel satisfied it will be a good investment," said Miss Catherine Gorbett.

"Many people are not satisfied with what our public schools offer. That class will patronize a good school at home, when they possibly could not send their young girls away.

"Many students can not keep up with the outlined course of our public schools. The reasons are various for this; most frequently it is because of physical disability. That class need it, and will surely patronize such a school. People coming to our city will look to the educational advantages. What better advertisement for the city?"

"By all means let us have a good private school for girls."

Mrs. Arrington Favors School.

That such an institution as the proposed select school for girls would be the solution of a great educational problem is the opinion of Mrs. Empress Arrington, principal of the Sunset school. "There are many girls in the public schools at present who suffer from nervousness," Mrs. Arrington said speaking of the need for such a school.

"They are required to do the routine work of the city schools because the size and general system of our public does not permit of exceptions being made in individual cases. We are often asked to do this by parents, but with the number of pupils that are attending the schools such exceptions could not be made. In a private school, such as is proposed for El Paso, exceptions could be made, as the system would be arranged to fit just such cases.

"Then there are other girls who need the personal influence of such a woman as I know Miss Slater to be. We, in the public schools cannot come in personal contact with our pupils as she could do in such a school where she would be a living example for the students in the boarding school. I am glad to endorse such a movement."

THE RAPID GROWTH OF CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

St. Joseph's From a Small Beginning, Has Grown Very Rapidly.

To emphasize the marvelous growth of El Paso during the past quarter of a century, no better barometer can be taken than St. Joseph's academy, located on North El Paso street, which started in the early days with a small enrollment of hardly a score of pupils and has grown until it now has numbered between 150 and 200 members in daily attendance at the institution.

In connection with St. Joseph's academy three separate schools have been established in the city. St. Mary's on Myrtle avenue, Sacred Heart on North Oregon, and St. Ignace school. The enrollment will reach nearly a thousand pupils.

In charge of the school work are 22 sisters, who are distributed among the various schools according to the different studies taught. Every branch of preparatory education has been enlarged upon until the most thorough training of boys and girls to become well educated young men and women is pursued by the competent corps of sisters.

One of the most interesting features in connection with the growth of St. Joseph's academy is the increase in the value of real property on which the school is now situated. The lot which consists of an entire block, was purchased for $2500 and but a brief time has elapsed since the sister superior refused to consider an offer of $50,000 for the site upon which the school is located, the remainder of the block being approximately valued at $20,000.

The institution is not equipped with a boarding school as in some cities owing to the excessive lack of room.

This institution is a splendid example of the success of educational institutions in El Paso.

DAN KELLY RESIGNS
AS FIRE TREASURER

Committee Appointed to Receive Any Money Bankrupt Man May Have.

Dan Kelly, who had been treasurer of the volunteer fire department since its organization in 1882, Thursday night in his written resignation to the fire directors, who held their regular monthly meeting, and Tom Holland was elected to succeed him.

In the recent statement of Passett & Kelly, who went into bankruptcy, Kelly acknowledged owing the volunteer fire department about $700.

Zell Helm, Peyton F. Edwards and Al Howard were appointed a committee to receive any funds that may be turned over to the department by the referee in bankruptcy in charge of the business of Passett & Kelly.

There were 25 members present and a lively meeting was held, most of the auxiliary departments reporting that they had cut their list of members down to 20 and gave in the names of their officers, which will be presented to the council for approval.

E. Kogelmeyer complained that he had been placed on the jury list and said he thought the list of exempt members should be made up and presented so that he would not have to serve on the jury. Secretary Zell Helm, assistant chief Dave Sullivan and second assistant chief Fred Kiefer were instructed to attend all meetings and remove from the list all those who failed to attend and then the exemption list will be made up.

GUARD RAIL THE CAUSE OF DEATH

Tesimony in Court Shows How Scanlon Was Killed in Yards.

Though one of his legs was severed and the other mangled so badly that they ultimately caused his death, Ed. Scanlon, who died six hours after an accident in the El Paso yards Wednesday did not lose consciousness at the time of the accident.

According to Austin B. Flagg, a G. H. machinist, Scanlon said to him: "I will tell you just how it happened; that bloody guard rail hit the pilot and knocked me off."

To Thomas Bird, night yardmaster, he said: "I was standing on the pilot; the pilot struck the guard rail and threw me off."

This testimony was given in the inquest hearing held by Justice E. H. Watson Thursday afternoon.

The testimony of three witnesses examined follows:

Austin B. Flagg, a G. H. machinist, said: "I was on my way to work when at the Octavia street crossing I saw an engine pushing two dead engines. I heard a noise as though the engine had struck something. Then I heard a grinding noise and heard some one cry out from the spot and saw the other badly mangled."

C. R. Witherspoon, foreman of the switching crew, testified to having seen the deceased just after the accident, one leg being severed and the other badly mangled.

B. B. Chelton also saw Scanlon after the accident.

Thomas Bird, night yardmaster, testified: "At about 6:15 on the morning of Feb. 9 I was in my office when Flagg called to me that some one was killed. I ran right up and saw Scanlon, and said, 'Ed, how in the world did this happen?' He said: 'I was riding on the pilot; the pilot struck the guard rail and threw me off.'"

"One leg was cut off, the other badly mangled. Dr. Ramey came and in about 15 minutes Scanlon was taken to Hotel Dien. I went with him to the hospital."

IS ONE FINGER
WORTH $10,000?

If You Get on the Jury, You May Have to Decide This Question.

Is a finger worth $10,000? That is the question an El Paso jury in the 24th district court will be required to decide, for G. P. Sorey, an S. P. brakeman, has filed suit against that company for damages in that sum because he lost a finger while in its employ.

According to the plaintiff's petition he was employed by the defendant and was sitting on a chair in his train at Dome, Ariz., on August 28, 1903. The train started suddenly, the chair was thrown back and the third finger of his right hand was caught in the door and mangled so that amputation became necessary.

You can get quicker relief and absolute cure by breathing the soothing, healing, antiseptic balsams coming off the wonderful eucalyptus trees in inland Australia.

But how many of us can afford to take a trip to Australia? Not many to be sure. But Mr. T. R. ## Cottolene Never Makes Food Greasy

Food cooked with hog lard and compounds is so thickly coated with grease as to give the gastric juices little chance to assimilate and digest it. Cottolene contains no hog fat. It does not coat the food with grease, and food cooked with it is easily digested.

From the standpoint of health, there is no comparison between food cooked with Cottolene and food cooked with lard. Lard is just hog fat—Cottolene is a vegetable product of Nature.

Cottolene makes food which any stomach can digest and builds up the tissues of the body.
